

Edward Jenkins QC

1977 (QC 2000)

"He is a lawyer's lawyer. His knowledge of all laws regulatory, consumer and fraud is second to none"

Edward both defends and prosecutes, specialising in all areas of criminal law.

He has particular expertise in the following:

- Corporate manslaughter
- Serious and complex fraud
- All aspects of trading standards law
- Criminal aspects of intellectual property law (trademarks and copyright) Food and drugs
- Murder and Manslaughter

Languages: French

Also a member of the Trinidad & Tobago Bar.

As part of his international legal interests Edward visited major law firms in Beijing, China as part of a Bar Council Delegation. He lectured on the UK Bribery Act to law associations and discussed the giving of advice on English regulatory issues and economic crime which could affect Chinese companies.

Education/Professional

- BA (Cantab)
- Queen's Counsel – 2000
- Recorder